MASTER IN LIBERAL ARTS

BROADEN YOUR HORIZONS

The Master in Liberal Arts at UST is a multidisciplinary Master's degree, a flexible ALTERNATIVE to a traditional Master's degree, with courses and electives from among any of 16 concentration areas:

- For educators looking to advance practical and subject matter expertise
- For professionals looking to advance their careers or to expand job horizons
- For everyone looking to go deeper into the Great Books and Great Ideas in the pursuit of life-long learning...

Popular Areas of Concentration: History, Communications, International Studies, English, and also Business and Education. Students enjoy small classes and personal attention, with many evening and all online options, along with study abroad and internship opportunities.

Contact me at 713-525-6951 or behrt@stthom.edu for more information.

Don't wait—these courses, kept to small class size, may fill up.

Yours truly,

Thomas C. Behr, J.D., Ph.D.

Director of Graduate & Undergraduate Liberal Arts Programs,
Assistant Professor of History
